P. E. O. CHAPTER ORGANIZED HERE

Mrs. Alex Webb Heads Local Body of Women's Secret Order

Chapter "O" of the order of P. E. O., was organized in Ada last Saturday. This is the fifteenth Ohio chapter of this order, said to be the largest woman's secret organization in the world not affiliated with any man's organization.

The order originated in 1866 at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., which state now has 160 chapters. California has almost as many.

The purpose is largely philanthropic and cultural. Music, art, and literature are studied in twice-a-month meetings.

Mrs. Nellie N. Cooley, of Cleveland, state organizer, assisted by Mrs. Julia B. Coleman, of Loveland, O., President of the P. E. O. of Ohio, Mrs. Mary Ensign and Mrs. Bess Fatherson, of Clarion, Ia., organized a P. E. O. chapter in the home of Mrs. Alice E. Webb, at Ada, April 13, with 14 members being initiated. This chapter is to be known as chapter "O".

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Alice E. Webb, president; Mrs. Nann Clayton, vice president; Mrs. Laura R. Conner, secretary; Mrs. Lela Soulesky, treasurer; Mrs. Mary C. Bogardus, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elma I. Jameson, chaplain; Miss Ethel Warren, guard.

The Ohio president, Mrs. Coleman, gave an interesting talk. Mrs. Fatherson and Mrs. Ensign also spoke.

Mrs. Alice E. Webb and Mrs. Avernell Stambaugh were elected delegates; Mrs. Nann Clayton and Mrs. Lela Soulesky, alternates, to the state convention.

After an all-day session, the members and visitors were entertained at dinner at the home of Mrs. George Stambaugh.

Mrs. Cooley and Mrs. Coleman were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. J. Soulesky while in Ada. Mrs. Fatherson and Mrs. Ensign were house guests of Mrs. Alex Webb. The first three returned to their homes Sunday. Mrs. Ensign remained with her daughter, Mrs. Webb, and will leave today for her home in Iowa, accompanied by little Mary Webb.

ROUND ABOUT OHIO NORTHERN

Glee Club Makes Hit at Canton

The Men's Glee club of Ohio Northern finished a successful three-day program at Keith's theatre, Canton, last Sunday. The thirty members of the club, with Director Mark Evans and Harold Whitlock, pianist, returned home Sunday evening after their three-day engagement.

While in Canton the Glee club made eleven appearances, three on Thursday and Friday, and four on Saturday. All of the songs were sung before large and appreciative audiences, and Mark Evans, dean of the college of music, received special commendation for his work as director.

On Sunday the club met with Dr. A. E. Smith, president of the university at the Hotel Courtyard, where a banquet was enjoyed with "Praxy" as guest of honor.

The program presented at Canton featured "Songs of the Western Men," "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "O. N. U. March Song," by the Glee club, numbers by the quartette, and solos by George Vaughn.
